

The Jisc logo is located in the top left corner, consisting of the word "Jisc" in white sans-serif font on an orange rectangular background.

Jisc

A photograph of three young adults (two men and one woman) sitting around a table, looking at a laptop. The man on the left is wearing a light blue polo shirt, the woman in the middle is wearing a colorful plaid shirt, and the man on the right is wearing a dark plaid shirt. They appear to be in a collaborative learning or work environment.

ib The UK ORCID support service is for research support staff, managers, practitioners and developers considering or already implementing ORCID, and is designed to help drive:

- Community collaboration
- Knowledge-sharing
- ORCID adoption
- Benefits for institutions and researchers

ib This support service will:

- Respond to your technical support requests
- Run user community events including hack days
- Provide UK-focused guidance materials and resources for new and existing ORCID users, as well as signposting useful resources elsewhere
- Facilitate sharing of community information and integration plans
- Coordinate implementation activities among group members

» EPrints

- » Engaged with EPrints user group
- » Developed a specification for an EPrints/ORCID plugin
- » Ready to commission development of the plugin

» DSpace

- » Initial engagement with DSpace UK&I user group
- » Discussion with DuraSpace team
- » Considering next steps

- » Authentication and Registration Application
  - » Idea of a stand alone ORCID registration application
  - » Raised by community through helpdesk enquiries, previous Jisc/ORCID meetings and Jisc/ORCID hackday
  - » Could meet the needs of those wishing to engage with ORCID but not able to do an integration with existing system
  - » Captured high-level requirements; Understand similar idea has been discussed by New Zealand ORCID Consortium
  - » Considering next steps

- » 63% participation
- » Mainly senior staff from a variety of departments
- » Significant variation in terms of progress
  - » 23 institutions have completed an integration
  - » 3 members in process of upgrading current integration
  - » 51% still planning

» Integration

- » Good signs of progress

- » Mostly in relation to Symplectic, CRIS and PURE

- » Most members have a dialogue with suppliers on integration – mixed views, area for more support

- » Useful feedback on specific aspects of system integration, e.g. 22 instances of systems where ORCID iDs are displayed

What has been easy or difficult to achieve? Please rate the following where 1 means presented least difficulty and 5 means most difficult.

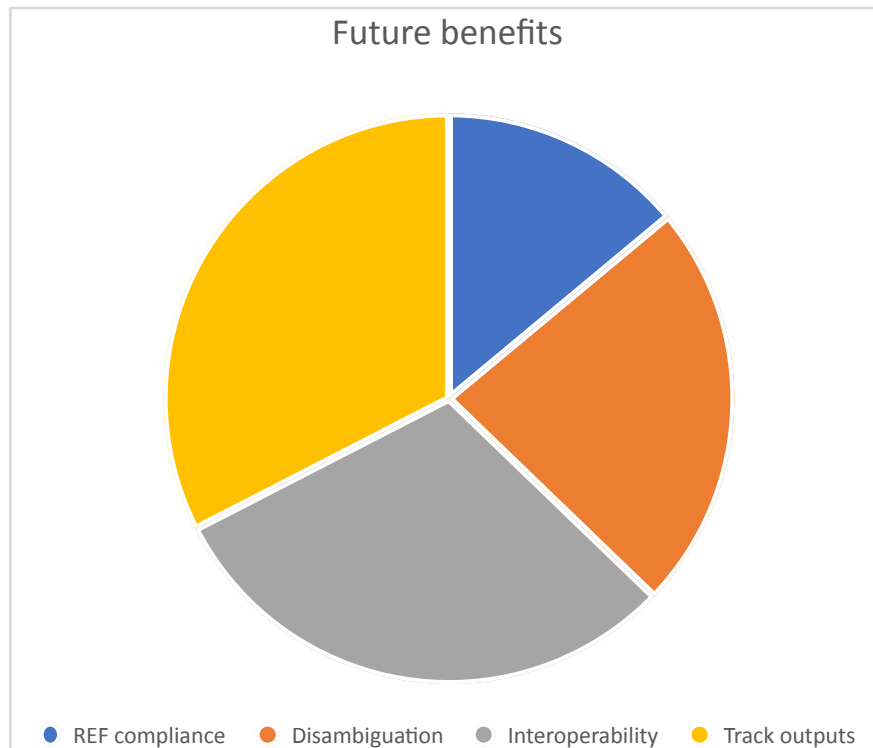

- » Advocacy & Communications
  - » Mostly training sessions
  - » Email campaigns
  - » Intranet/website
  - » Promo material, leaflets & banners
  - » Blog
  - » Competition!
  - » Link to internal funding scheme/induction
  - » Link to external policy necessities

» Benefits

- “Much more accurate information on publications and research activity. We have found it a useful source of truth for checking against other sources of information.”
- “Reduction in staff time spent entering publication details manually.”
- “Better engagement from researchers - helped me to build relationships as I offer to import people's publications.”
- “Better linking of research outputs.”
- “Increased repository deposit.”
- “Better search results.”
- “Improved visibility of authors and outputs.”

- » Support service
  - » 84% awareness
  - » 60% have used help desk
  - » Most have attended a members event
  - » Overall positive feedback
  - » 76% consider service proactive/very proactive
  - » Specific issues raised which we're following up

- » Overall survey reveals
  - » Positive progress with integration
  - » Positive feedback on the support service
  - » Specific issues that need further work
  - » Enthusiasm and collective will to make this work in UK
  - » Realistic about expectations
  - » Continue to improve communications
